BRISTOL COMMUNITY COLLEGE TO HOST THE SECOND YEAR OF POPULAR FARMERS' MARKET SERIES BEGINNING WEDNESDAY, APRIL 18

Bristol Community College's Office of Student Life is launching the second year of its popular Farmers' Market series, made up of farmers and crafters from all over Southeastern Massachusetts. The Farmers' Market series will take place on Wednesday, April 18, and Wednesday, May 9, from 10 a.m. – 1 p.m., in the Commonwealth College Center (G-Building) Atrium, on the BCC Fall River campus, 777 Elsbree Street.

The series aims to build and promote relationships with local, sustainable farmers and businesses, as well as to provide the community with convenient access to healthy, farm-to-table food choices.

The college is excited to continue to develop great relationships with farmers and crafters this year by expanding the series offerings to include locally handmade products such as goat's milk soaps, soy based candles, and more!

BCC's Office of Student Life currently has a limited number of spots available for vendors who are interested in participating in the Farmers' Market series. For more information about becoming a vendor at the markets, please contact Amy M. Blanchette by calling 774.357.3108 or emailing Amy.Blanchette@bristolcc.edu.
